Message from our President

Welcome to a new year of Federation—a year that will culminate in our 100th birthday. Keeping with our tradition during this Jewish New Year, I reflect on the year that has passed and look forward to a great celebration. Of great concern is Iran and how the treaty, whether approved or not by our Congress, will work to prevent a nuclear disaster.

We will continue to watch with great interest and some humor and perhaps a little disbelief as more and more candidates announce for President. For 100 years, Federation has been an exciting, comfortable place for Jewish women to come together for education, advocacy, understanding and friendship, empowering themselves and their families to make a difference for the Jewish people.

Throughout the year we will revisit our history with fun and remembrance. In November... we will go back to the past for a mini "School for A Day" with an updated "twist" as we explore the skills needed to be leaders for the next hundred years. In January we will uncover the "mysteries" of the Mikvah and its impact on today's Jewish women. In March we will travel to Annapolis to put what we have learned to the test as we visit the General Assembly.

For 100 years, Federation has focused on Women's Rights from pay equity and childcare to women's healthcare, including reproductive needs and concerns. We will keep you constantly informed using the technology of emails and encouraging you to visit our website on a regular basis. Federation is here for you. Please let us know your needs from publicizing your events to requests for speakers or advice. We are just a phone call, tweet, or email away. We can only make this happen if each of you "show up"... attend meetings and programs, volunteer and be a "FRIEND." You will MAKE A DIFFERENCE for the next hundred years. LET'S CELEBRATE.

Be safe and productive,
Sheila K. Derman

THANK YOU FOR A SUCCESSFUL 99TH ANNUAL CONVENTION MAY 7, 2015 "WOMEN WHO LIFT THEIR VOICES"

The Federation of Jewish Women held its 99th Annual Convention on May 7, 2015 at Temple Oheb Shalom. It highlighted the theme of looking back but going forward in celebration of our 100th anniversary. Our morning speaker, Jeanne L. Allert, M.Ed., Founder and Executive Director of The Samaritan Women, educated our constituents about the many issues surrounding domestic human trafficking. She stressed the importance of all of us advocating to our lawmakers to address this troubling problem. We were fortunate that once again this year many legislative representatives from across Maryland attended our convention because they know the power of our voices. Since it was Lag B'Omer, we were treated with a special cantorial concert featuring Cantors Renata Braun, Robbie Solomon and Robert Gerber. It was a most entertaining performance. The E.B. Hirsh Lifetime Achievement Award honoree was Beth Goldsmith, an exemplary community leader. Her speech made us aware of what we can accomplish as individuals. This motivated and empowered us. Our afternoon program then focused on acknowledging the women selected by each organization to receive the "Woman Who Lifts Her Voice" Award. They were recognized and honored for their advocacy in making our Jewish community better. We sincerely thank Temple Oheb Shalom for once again hosting our convention. Sandy and Fred Nagel are greatly appreciated for donating their time to be our convention photographers. Also, we thank North Oaks and The Jewish Times for their sponsorship. Finally, Rochelle and I acknowledge and thank our president, Sheila Derman and our hard-working committee, who spent many hours planning and organizing this wonderful event. The support of our Federation members, constituent organizations and community leaders helped to make our 99th Convention a big success.

Linda Boteach and Rochelle Bohrer, 99th Convention Co-chairs

SERV-A: Service Men and Women Receive Packages

by Betty Seidel

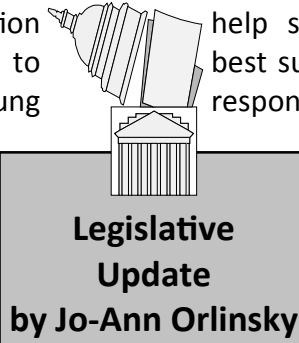

They missed the Seder at home on Passover! The New Year will probably be ushered in without their presence! I speak of the Jewish men and women in the United States Armed Services who are courageously protecting our interests throughout the world. How sweet it is that we have not forgotten them! The Chaplain's Council of the National Jewish Welfare Board allocates SERV-A funds to provide ceremonials, prayer books and traditional holiday treats. So, in the spirit of sharing, we need no reminder to submit each organization's annual $75 appropriation. Individuals may also make contributions in any amount to commemorate special happy or sad occasions. Our intrepid treasurer, Arlene Mazer, will be happy to receive and acknowledge all gifts to SERV-A, Federation's incredible project that brings boundless joy to all of us, and especially to our nation's Jewish servicemen and women.

One of Federation's Action Resolutions passed at Convention on May 7, 2015 addresses Trafficking of Women and Children. Our resolution encourages our organizations to take action to educate the community, offer services to victims, provide information to at-risk young women and their families, advocate for legislation to aid victims and to prosecute perpetrators.

In Maryland, during the past session of the General Assembly, two bills were enacted by the legislature and signed by the Governor. The first, creates an affirmative defense of human sex trafficking for defendants charged with prostitution when the trafficker has been criminally charged (a conviction is not required).

The second bill prohibits prosecution of minors (being trafficked) for prosecution and protects sexually exploited children and teens for being treated as criminals. The bill creates a statewide task force to make recommendations for establishing a Safe Harbor policy that would help survivors, addresses which agencies are best suited to provide services and how best to respond to trafficked children and teens.

Over the past year, Hadassah, National Council of Jewish Women, the Maryland Coalition Against Sexual Assault (MCASA), the Maryland Women's Law Center and the University of Baltimore have become more active in these issues and have made them priority issues. The Maryland Women's Law Center now has a Trafficking Victims Post-Conviction Advocacy Project, assisting victims from across the state to vacate their criminal trafficking related convictions (blame the victim). The University of Baltimore Law School will now have an anti-trafficking project within the law school's Civil Advocacy Clinic.

Social Action Committee

Thanks to everyone who has brought items for our social action projects this year. I hope that this activity will start you thinking of ways your group can participate with repairing the world. As we look ahead to the coming year, I will be calling on our hosting organizations for social action ideas. It has always been my belief that it is our responsibility to help those who are in need of our assistance.

If you have ideas for our social action projects, contact Chair Karan Engerman karansander@comcast.net. If your organization has participated in a social action project, let us know.
